The Delegating Members of the Public Security to Investigate in the Jordanian Penal Procedure Law: A Comparative Study

*Naser A. Al-Sarayreh

ABSTRACT

If the competence of the public security personnel in their capacity as the staff of law enforcement is limited in ordinary cases in carrying out the examination, reasoning and initial investigation related to the crime, this competence expands if the public security personnel have been assigned to make an investigation by the Prosecution represented by the Public Prosecutor.

As for the referral to the Prosecution, it is one of the initial investigation proceedings in which the Prosecutor assigns some staff of law enforcement or another Prosecutor to take his place to do a job or more in the initial investigation in accordance with Articles (48&92) of the Law of Criminal Procedure of Jordan.

The researcher has reached in this study to a number of findings and recommendations deemed necessary to be taken by the Jordanian lawmaker.

Keywords: Members of the Public Security, Investigation.
